The big-eyed birds have since established friendly relations with the household's other pets—a pair of kittens and a Labrador Retriever.

Plants Making War Munitions Forced Closed By Steel Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The two-week-old steel strike slashed deeper than ever into the nation's economy today as some plants making war munitions reported curtailments near because of a shortage of steel.

In addition to the 650,000 CIO steelworkers who walked out June 2 when the U.S. Supreme Court ruled President Truman had no right to seize the industry, more than 100,000 workers in allied industries are idle.

These include nearly 50,000 coal miners in seven states and more than 30,000 railroaders employed by a dozen carriers.

Sailors, Miners Idle
Nearly 25,000 more are idle in industries dependent on steel. These include sailors on Great Lakes ore boats, ore miners, coke workers, river boat crews, oil and gas pipeline workers, construction crews, and workers in other steel-related fields.

Announcements that three companies will be forced to stop making munitions this week came as the government and the United Steelworkers sought to work out a plan to start enough steel flowing from the struck mills to prevent a crippling halt in the production of weapons.

Halt Making Shells
At Cleveland, Lempco Products, Inc., said it was forced to halt making mortar shells today because of steel shortages and to lay off 500 employees.

The Oldsmobile Division of General Motors said a shortage of seamless steel tubing will force it to shut down its 3.5-inch rocket plant at Lansing, Mich., on June 23.

In Detroit, it was reported the Ford Motor Company may be forced to close down rocket production before the end of the week because of a shortage of tubing.

Officials of the General Motors Cadillac tank plant at Cleveland said it has enough steel for from 10 days to two weeks of operation.

The government has been assured by Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the USW:

To Produce Defense Steel
"Count on us to produce the essential military products necessary to carry on our fight against the menace of Communist aggression."

Murray has directed a four-man committee of the USW to help work out an acceptable plan for defense needs for steel. So far the government has announced no specific way of achieving this output although it said a plan had been worked out to transport steel stored in struck warehouses to weapons manufacturers.

Faster Airpower Buildup Urged
U. S. Must Catch Up To Soviet, Group Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate preparedness subcommittee called today for a faster buildup of U.S. air power and cited testimony by the Joint Chiefs of Staff to support its stand.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), said everything must be done to step up rates of production in order to reach a goal of 143 wings as quickly as possible and overcome a "terrifying" Russian air superiority.

"To do otherwise would reduce our defenses below safe levels and be an invitation to disaster," the subcommittee said in a report dealing with the recent "stretch-out" decision by President Truman and his advisers.

The report said the subcommittee established that the Joint Chiefs of Staff, headed by Gen. Omar N. Bradley, recommended a 143-wing Air Force, consisting of 126 combat wings and 17 supporting wings, not later than the end of 1954, with mid-1954 preferable.

The report contained this testimony by Bradley:

"In general, the effect of the stretch-out on security will be to postpone until 1956 the full realization of the United States military capabilities originally planned for achievement in 1954."

"Thus, the stretch-out program will seriously reduce the anticipated military capabilities of the United States and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to withstand successfully any all-out attack on the part of Russia prior to 1956."

Truce Talkers Again Walk Out On Communists

3-Day Recess Called By U. N.; Reds Still Continue Propaganda

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—United Nations truce negotiators walked out on the Communists again today as the senior Red delegate was talking. They said they wouldn't be back for three days.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il's interpreter was saying, "I have something more to say," when Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison declared:

"There being no further business to transact today we are now leaving and will return June 21. Our liaison officers are available for necessary meetings."

Reds Laughed
Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, U.N. spokesman, said that when Harrison walked out the Reds broke out in "apparently rehearsed laughter which was supposed to have been derision, I imagine."

Harrison said, "We hope they will think the matter over and realize that the U.N. proposal for settling the truce blocking issue of prisoner exchange is final."

It was the second time in less than two weeks that Harrison had forced a three-day recess on the Reds in the hope they would reconsider their demand that all captured Reds be repatriated. The U.N. says no prisoner will be forced to return. Only 70,000 of 169,000 Allied POWs have expressed willingness to be repatriated.

Continued Propaganda
Today's walkout came at the end of a 32-minute meeting at which Nam delivered what Harrison called a "bitter and belligerent" propaganda assault on the Allies.

Nam accused the U.N. of trying to "dictate an armistice" and of slaughtering Red prisoners in Allied hands.

Harrison said he would meet before Saturday if the Reds have anything to say.

Nam had demanded that the main armistice delegations meet daily.

Harrison told him:

"Every day for a week we have come here at your request to listen to what you have to say. You have merely presented your same arguments, misleading statements and propaganda. Nothing you have said in any way contributes to achievement of an armistice."

Prior to the plenary session, Communist liaison officers delivered a note rejecting a U.N. charge that five POW camps in North Korea were not properly marked.

Five-Year Old Boy Is Struck By Auto

A five-year-old boy was injured in one of the two traffic mishaps investigated by State Highway Patrolmen Monday.

Thomas Campbell, 24, of Negley told patrolmen that as he was driving south on Route 170 in Fredericktown at 1:35 p.m. his car struck Kuki Loudman, five, of Fredericktown when the boy ran onto the highway in front of his car.

The youngster sustained a possible fracture of the right shoulder and body bruises and was admitted to East Liverpool City Hospital.

Cars driven by Clarence Dittmar, 49, of Struthers and Horace Bretz, 69, of Greentown collided at 12:45 p.m. on Route 224, just west of Poland.

Temperature Causes Four Deaths In Ohio

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The weatherman promised Ohioans cooler and less humid weather with showers today, following a record-breaking heat wave.

Monday was one of the hottest June 16ths in Ohio history. The temperature in Salem "dropped" to a humid high of 92 Monday, 4 degrees below Sunday's record-breaking 96. Thundershowers and cooler tonight was the forecast for the city, with more pleasant sleeping in prospect from a 60 degree low predicted for tonight.

The temperature accounted for four deaths. A two-month-old Toledo boy and a 59-year-old Cleveland man died of the heat. A 20-year-old youth drowned at Cleveland and at East Liverpool Ronald Campbell, 20, drowned in Beaver Creek, near Fredericktown.

Campbell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Campbell of near East Liverpool, was with three other persons who tried to swim from one side of the creek to the other, but when he had gotten about halfway out, he yelled that he could not make it and went down into water which was about eight feet deep.

His companions attempted to help him but by the time they reached the spot where he had submerged they couldn't find him. Paul Davis and Richard Daly of Fredericktown located him and pulled him out.

Artificial respiration was given to Campbell but to no avail. The coroner ruled death by accidental drowning.

Campbell was employed by the Hall China Co. of East Liverpool. His body has been removed to the Martin funeral home in that city.

Columbus, TOLEDO, Cleveland, Youngstown and Springfield all recorded all-time high temperatures for June 16.

Springfield had the hottest mark—104 degrees. Previous high was 96 in 1913.

Other record temperatures: Youngstown—98 degrees; Cleveland—96; Columbus—95.4, and Toledo—97.6.

Elsewhere throughout the state, Ohioans wilted under near-record mercury marks.

It was 90 in Akron; 96 in Cincinnati—a half degree under that city's record; 94.6 in Dayton—slightly under the 96 all-time day's high there; 93 in Zanesville, and 90.8 in Warren.

East Liverpool's mercury also set a new record for the day—95 degrees.

Ohio Males May Wear Beards For State's Sesquicentennial

LEBANON, O. (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche had a rough problem on his hands today—"to beard or not to beard..."

The "Brothers of the Brush" ganged up on the governor Monday when he appeared here at the opening of Lebanon's Sesquicentennial. The bewhiskered individuals asked Gov. Lausche to proclaim beards as the male style next year when the State of Ohio will celebrate its own 150th anniversary.

Herb Schwartz, chairman of the face-foliage committee here and spokesman for their request that all Ohio males wear beards during 1953, declared:

"We have had to raise beards for the Lebanon Sesquicentennial, and it hasn't been easy. After all we have gone through, we think that Gov. Lausche should ask all men of Ohio to do the same thing when the Buckeye state holds its own sesquicentennial next year. We never thought we would, but dog-gone if the boys aren't beginning to like the beards."

Schwartz added thoughtfully, "It makes the ladies smile, too."

Troy Cope, Jr., Named EF Director

F. Troy Cope, Jr., of 1118 S. Lincoln Ave. was elected to the board of the Electric Furnace Co. when the Salem firm held its quarterly meeting Monday.

He fills the unexpired term of his father, the late F. T. Cope, former chairman of the board and company treasurer whose death occurred May 9.

F. Troy Cope, Jr., was graduated from Salem High in 1934, attended Case Institute of Technology, served in the Air Forces during the war and has been an erection and sales engineer for the Electric Furnace Co.

R. D. Painter, secretary and assistant treasurer, was promoted yesterday to the position of secretary-treasurer of the company, and W. L. Ferguson, formerly assistant auditor, was advanced to the office of assistant secretary-treasurer.

Quarterly dividends of 65 cents a share on preferred stock and 35 cents a share on common stock, payable Aug. 1, were declared.

Brakeman Fatally Hurt In Fall Under Train

EAST LIVERPOOL, O. (AP)—John C. Schill, 30, of Crestline was injured fatally Monday when he fell under a freight train.

The Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman was inspecting a hot box on his own train when the accident happened.

His left forearm was cut off, but he walked 850 feet to a nearby plant where he asked for an ambulance.

Ernest Sturgis, Columbiana County coroner, said death was caused by shock and loss of blood.

Swedes Order Planes To Fire If Reds Attack

Fighters Join Hunt For Lost Transport; Russians Denounced

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Infuriated Sweden kept up her search over the Baltic Sea today for a missing transport plane and sent along jet fighter escorts with orders to shoot if the Russians attacked.

The traditionally neutral nation's stern action reflected the anger expressed by the government, press and people over the shooting down yesterday of an unarmed Swedish flying boat by two Soviet MIG15 jet fighter planes.

Crew Picked Up
The seven crew members—two of them wounded—of the downed plane were picked up from the sea by a small German freighter and taken to Hango, Finland.

They had been searching for a Swedish transport DC3 missing since Friday with eight men aboard. It was assumed here the Russians had shot down that craft also, but the search continued today.

A Swedish Air Force spokesman announced early today that all aircraft participating in the continuing search have been supplied with jet fighter escort. He said the fighters had been told to return fire if attacked.

Want To Hang Stalin
Some 5,000 furious Swedes, jeering, shouting, "We will see Stalin hanged," and "Down with the communistic warmongers," demonstrated in front of the Russian Embassy last night in protest against yesterday's attack.

The government handed Russian Ambassador Constantin Rodinov a "strong protest" against this "act of violence" and demanded "swift punishment of those responsible for the outrage."

The captain of the Swedish plane said he was jumped by the two Soviet fighters about 60 miles off the Soviet-held Estonian Coast, in an area where the Russians are reported to be holding vast sea and air maneuvers.

Six of the plane crew were flown

GOV. DAN THORNTON of Colorado, a staunch backer of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower in the latter's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, appears to be whispering advice as Eisenhower tells a group of farm editors in Denver that he favors letting farmers themselves write the farm plank in the GOP platform.

Brewster Beaten In Maine; Eisenhower Campaigns In West

By The Associated Press
The presidential race, in some what of a lull, was overshadowed today by the Maine primaries in which Sen. Owen Brewster lost his bid for Republican renomination after 30 years in public life. Brewster, 63, was defeated by Gov. Frederick G. Payne, on the basis of returns from all but eight of Maine's 625 precincts. Payne had a 3,000-vote margin and there were not enough votes uncounted to make up the difference.

Unofficial tabulations gave: Payne 68,485. Brewster 65,357. The Democratic senatorial race was won by 30-year-old Roger P. Dube of Lewiston, but he was running mostly for political exercise. No Democrat has won a major election in Maine since 1934.

There were presidential campaign overtones to the Maine battle—Payne is a supporter of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, Brewster is for Ohio Sen. Robert Taft—but the issue played little part in it.

Eisenhower and Taft, top contenders for the GOP presidential nomination, were slowed down to a walk after last week's furious questing for delegate support.

Taft was in Washington, attending to his Senate duties. Eisenhower, in Denver, meets with convention delegations from three western states—Colorado, Wyoming and Utah.

Of Colorado's 18 delegates, 15 are for Eisenhower, two are for Taft and one is for Harold Stassen of Minnesota first and Eisenhower second. Half of Wyoming's 12 are pro-Taft, two favor Eisenhower and four are uncommitted. Utah's 14 are pledged to Taft.

Eisenhower's purpose in these meetings—the same for which he and Taft huddled separately with a parade of delegates last week—is three-fold: Clinch your own support, shake loose the other fellows' and win over the undecided.

Eisenhower took things fairly easy Monday. He talked with farm journal editors and dropped in at a local meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity. He also conferred with his campaign leaders and found time for a round of golf—89 over a par 72 course.

Taft has 464 on the Republican scoresheet to Eisenhower's 392.

Italy Approves Schuman Plan
Treaty Will Pool Europe's Coal, Steel

ROME (AP)—The Schuman Plan to unite Western Europe's coal and steel production under international control cleared its final parliamentary hurdle here last night.

In a 265-98 vote, the Italian Chamber of Deputies ratified the 50-year treaty pooling the key industrial output of six West European nations. Only the signature of President Luigi Einaudi—expected within a few days—was needed to complete endorsement.

The other nations—France, and the economic Allied Saarland, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—already have ratified the treaty, which their foreign ministers signed in Paris on April 18, 1951.

The pact now is ready for decisive action again by the foreign ministers, who must appoint the men who will put the pool into operation. The ministers will meet in Paris "sometime next week" to do this, a French Foreign Office spokesman there said today.

Completion of the ratification process was a signal victory for French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman—who first proposed the plan now bearing his name. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Italian Premier Alcide de Gasperi and other vigorous supporters of European unity.

But the legislators' approval came only on an economic phase of the revolutionary plans to counter ancient West European rivalries and, at the same time, strengthen the West against the threat of Russian aggression.

Still awaiting ratification is the military counterpart, the European army treaty to weld the armed forces of the six nations into one international force. The foreign ministers have signed a treaty to set it up, but none of the six parliaments have ratified.

The Italian Senate ratified the Schuman treaty last March. The lower house approval came after a three-day debate during which the Communists fought hard—but unsuccessfully—to halt action.

Closing the debate, De Gasperi urged his colleagues to demonstrate that "Italy is an efficient factor in international collaboration."

The six nations linked by the treaty produce about 38 million metric tons (of 2,200 pounds each) of steel a year, just under the estimated 41 million tons turned out by Russia and her satellites. The Schuman nations mine 225 million tons of coal annually but hope to make up present shortages—now filled from the United States.

Russia Makes Surprise Offer To Give Back 186 U. S. Ships

WASHINGTON (AP)—A surprise offer by the Russians to give back 186 American ships was regarded by State Department officials today as advancing negotiations for settling the Soviet Union's 11-billion-dollar World War II lend-lease account.

Moscow made the offer yesterday in an unexpected renewal of negotiations which have dragged on more than five years. The ships are among 670 turned over to the Soviets by this country during the war.

Yesterday's State Department meeting was the first to take up the long-standing dispute since last August. It left the two governments as far apart as ever on other major issues. Officials said, however, the proposal to turn back some of the vessels was at least a step toward settlement.

The United States is expected to accept the proposal but to renew a demand for the return of other vessels.

A further meeting of negotiating groups was set for Wednesday.

In addition, a Russian group headed by Boris I. Karavaev, temporarily in charge of the Soviet Embassy, renewed an offer of 300 million dollars for a final overall lend-lease settlement. This would be their payment for all other ships, and for machine tools, locomotives and other civilian-type goods still usable at VJ day.

The U. S. which is asking 800 million dollars plus the ships, again rejected the offer. Officials said it was made plain, however, that this figure might be scaled down if Moscow came up with a constructive proposal to bridge the gap.

Roving Reports By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Papa-San is taking it on the chin in Japan.

"Honorable father" is slowly losing his age-old power over Mama-San, or "honorable mother." The theory of male dominance is setting in the land of the Rising Sun, just as it set in America a generation ago.

Soon the hand that rocks the cradle will rule the roost in old Nippon, just as it now does in most of the Western world.

The twilight of Far Eastern Manhood was forecast in a recent dispatch from Futakawa village on the Japanese Island of Honshu.

The village elders there, bowing to changing times, voted that women were to have a holiday the 15th of each month, on which day men will wash, cook, and do all the other household chores.

In a lame justification of this retreat from traditional masculine authority, the elders told the women they were expected to use their holidays to "elevate their cultural standards."

But if they really think Mama-San is going to spend her new leisure studying flower arrangements—well, they just don't know Mama-San.

I will lay these village wise men 3-to-1 odds that before the year is out Mama-San will be going into politics, organizing softball teams, and learning to play canasta and blow smoke rings through her nose.

The odds are heavy also that Mama-San will live up to an old Western proverb holding that if you give a woman an inch she will take a mile.

"Why should we have a holiday just once a month?" she will ask. "Let's put our foot down, girls, and get a holiday every week, plus half a day off on Sunday."

And before long Papa-San will be doing the dishes and diapers in dear old Futakawa, while Mama-San runs for public office to oust the village elders who voted her the first holiday.

But the step has been taken, and there can be no turning back.

Japanese men lost the second world war abroad. Now they are losing the post-war war at home. "The kimono rebellion" by which women are gaining what they euphemistically call "equal rights."

But the successful revolt of Mama-San will give her new duties and insecurities. Many women may later wonder in Japan, as many do now in America, whether her new freedom really gives her more stature in terms of human happiness.

Traditionally, a Japanese wife was known as "The Pearl of the Orient." She had no legal rights, her husband could divorce her merely by writing her a three-line note, and when she went out with her lord and master she was supposed to walk two paces behind him.

A girl was taught subservience from birth. In a Japanese household even the youngest male child had his scrubbing before the oldest woman could take a turn at the bath.

A wife's place was in the home, but she had a fine title: "The honorable inner dweller." And a smart Japanese wife usually managed to be boss within the realm of her home.

The new Japanese constitution gives Mama-San many new rights and privileges. But this business of letting Papa-San into the kitchen, even for one day a month, opens a whole new world of Western woes. It means two bosses in the home, trying to share responsibility for menus and child care.

"Is this the best you can do?" Papa-San will grumble after every meal. "I can cook better sukiyaki than this with shoes on my hands."

If I were a young Japanese psychiatrist, I believe I'd hang up my shingle in Futakawa. The Mama-Sans, weighted with the strange new worries of leisure, ought to be a gold mine.

Germ Warfare Charges To Be Heard In U. N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States says it welcomes an opportunity in the Security Council Wednesday to show up the "falsehoods" and "propaganda" in Russia's continued charges that the U. S. and the U. N. are waging germ warfare in Korea.

The American position was made clear in a short but sharp statement issued Monday night by Ernest A. Gross, acting head of the U. S. delegation, after Russia's Jacob A. Malik called the Security Council to meet for a round on germ warfare.

Malik's call for the meeting—heads the council this month—actually did not mention the previous Russian charges. It asked the council to appeal to all countries, in or out of the U. N., to ratify the June 17, 1925, Geneva protocol prohibiting bacteriological warfare.

"The obvious purpose," said Gross' statement, "is to continue in a new forum the campaign of lies which charge the U. N. is employing bacteriological warfare in Korea. The Soviet leaders are trying to exploit whatever propaganda remains in these false charges. They will merely succeed in turning on themselves the spotlight of truth. We welcome the opportunity to show up again the Soviet falsehoods."

"Most-Wanted" of Them All!

It will probably occasion no surprise on your part to be told that the Cadillac car is the most wanted and sought-after automobile on the American highways.

But you might be surprised to learn how widespread the desire to own this great motor car has become during recent years.

Statistics indicate, for instance, that there are more than twenty million motorists in America who would like to call a Cadillac their own. And were the whole of the world's motorists to be considered, this number would grow well-nigh beyond comprehension.

There is reason to believe, in fact, that Cadillac may be wanted by more people than any other product manufactured in America today. It might well be called the great desideratum of the American people.

Naturally, a motor car has to offer many wonderful things in order to occupy such a unique position in the hopes and aspirations of so many persons.

It has to offer great and distinguishing beauty . . . luxurious comfort . . . brilliant, masterful performance . . . and wonderful prestige.

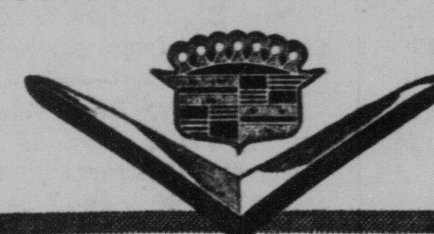

And, of course, in order to have become the logical ambition of so many millions, it would have to be practical to own, as well as wonderful to drive. And so, it would also have to offer—extraordinary economy!

If this sounds like the description of the car that you, yourself, would like to own and drive, then come in and see us—soon.

Perhaps the time has come for you to join the hundreds of thousands of motorists who have stopped wanting a Cadillac—and started enjoying one!

We'd be happy to see you any time.

Bypass Plans
Are UnalteredHighway Department
Pushes Rt. 14 Work

COLUMBIANA — Settlements are being made by representatives of the State Highway Department, it is understood, with property owners along County Line Rd., bordering the north corporation line and county line, which is to be made the Route 14 by-pass.

Objections by property owners and offers to donate a couple of large sections of a proposed alternate right of way farther north in Mahoning County have failed to change the Highway Department plans.

Construction of the limited access by-pass will forestall the opening of N. Elm St. to County Line Rd., toward which preliminary steps have been taken by the village council in the last two or three years. State engineers have advised that a right-angle turn west from N. Elm St. to Route 164, north-south highway, making a new short street to parallel County Line a short distance south would be the best solution of the problem, relieving Elm St. traffic from entering the flow of trucks on the by-pass.

LIMITED ACCESS provisions in the plans for the by-pass will not only bar any added points of access, but State Highway representatives say the department may have to buy present rights in some instances. It was brought out also at the recent hearing by Attorney H. C. Gorby of Columbiana, representing some of the property owners, that if a present acreage having an access were to be laid out in lots, the single access would have to serve the entire area unless the Highway Department should grant additional privileges.

Representatives of the department who have been before Council at different times during the winter and spring said the eastern section of the by-pass from Route 46 to its junction with the present Route 14, east of town, might be up for bids and the contract let by mid-summer.

The section from Route 46 west to its junction with the present Route 14, northwest of town, is to be built as soon as funds are

Pre-Cut Platform

On the subject of political platforms, now being hammered together a mile a minute, one observation is timely every four years.

There is no need to beat the bushes for platform material. Some of the soundest planks which could be put into a platform—not vote-wheeling splinters but genuine planks—never have been used.

There can be no compromise with evil-doing by honorable men. That would be an ornament to any party's platform.

Having tried everything else without success, we propose to go back to old-fashioned honesty and integrity. That would draw attention.

The function of government in a society of free and equal citizens is to act as referee in their disputes, never as one of the disputants. There's a plank which would make sense.

Government has no right to bestow special privileges in a country whose people are the source of sovereignty. No one would need to doctor up that plank to make it look good.

We believe Americans should map more attention to restoring their standard of life and a little less attention to maintaining their standard of living. Any question about that one?

We advocate slowing down the passage of more laws and speeding up the enforcement of laws already on the books. A government could stand on that one without fear.

Since there is no point of safety in public spending, we propose that spenders be informed that a point of satiety has been reached by taxpayers. Any objections?

We believe that common courtesy in international relations, as in personal relations, calls for respecting a closed door. We shall not enter where we are not wanted; we shall not remain where we have no right to stay; we shall not let Uncle Sam be replaced by the symbol of the bully-boys.

And last—
We shall keep our word.
What would be wrong with that for a platform?

Battle Of The Clouds?

Skeptics who knew from the very beginning it was bound to happen are calmly watching the weather battle of the Yakima and Wenatchee valleys out in the state of Washington.

Here, pitted against each other in a grim match for survival, are wheat growers who want rain and have hired rain-makers to get it, and cherry growers who want dry weather and have hired anti-rain-makers to get it.

Science is fighting science in the clouds. Men, having learned to lay rude hands on nature, are pulling and hauling, as is their custom. The upshot will be, of course, that the state of Washington will have to pass a law restricting interference with the weather to those who have been duly licensed, approved, certified, cleared and authorized by a committee of bureaucrats in Tacoma.

This will give rise, in turn, to weather leggers, furtive operators who will get results without benefit of sanctity of law and will have to be apprehended, at huge expense, by the division of enforcement in the Washington state bureau of weather control. And people wonder why government grows and grows and grows.

Whose Side Are We On?

Now that the U.S. State Department has made a big muscle at the president of Korea for objecting to criticism on Voice of America broadcasts, it seems reasonable enough to wonder if the State Department suddenly possesses infinite wisdom.

President Rhee's government points out that the use of its radio facilities for Voice of America broadcasts was extended through courtesy, not contract. When the broadcasts began to carry material attacking the government, the courtesy was being abused. Therefore it was withdrawn.

This prompted official criticism of the Rhee government for not being broad-minded. More to the point, since the Rhee government is fighting for its life against a junta of ruthless opponents, it gave rise to the idea that the State Department was getting ready to pull the rug from under it.

This is the same State Department which pulled a rug from under the Chinese government of Chiang Kai-shek, which invited the Communists to invade Korea by giving notice it wouldn't be defended and which has loused up its responsibilities in the Far East pretty thoroughly.

At the very least, those who now are taking sides with it against the Rhee regime should explain why they think it suddenly knows what it is doing. It never knew before.

Women, says a store official, are the ones who always want bargains. Maybe that's why they enjoy making husbands feel cheap.

We wonder how soon restaurants will start leaving home-grown strawberries out of short-cake.

Mediterranean

By DAVID LAWRENCE

British Upset Naval Harmony In That Zone

Many an American has been led to believe that Great Britain and the United States are operating as a team in the defense of the Mediterranean—when the exact opposite is true.

The problem has been oversimplified as merely a dispute as to whether a British or an American commander shall direct all the naval forces in the Mediterranean.

This isn't the issue at all, for the United States has told London that it would be willing to place all Mediterranean naval forces, including the American units, under a British admiral. The United States has insisted, however, that such an admiral must report to and be directed by the commander in chief of Allied forces in Southern Europe. That official, in turn, reports to General Matthew Ridgway, supreme commander of Allied powers in Europe.

THE BRITISH are willing to accept the Mediterranean command over all naval forces but insist that Vice Admiral Earl Mountbatten, their commander, should report not to the commander in chief of Allied forces in Southern Europe or to SHAPE in Paris but the "standing group" back in Washington. This is not only an impractical handling but it is an incomprehensible position, though it is defended on the ground that British "prestige" is at stake.

At the moment, U. S. Admiral Robert B. Carney is commander in chief of Allied forces in Southern Europe, and he has under him land, sea and air forces of all the Allied countries with the exception of the British naval forces in the Mediterranean, which now are operating on their own. If war broke out, this would be a serious weakness, and it seems essential that, in the very valuable present training period, British naval forces should be part of the Mediterranean team.

There is a very good reason why the commander in chief of Allied forces in Southern Europe should have all naval forces, including Britain's, under him. That reason has to do with the attitude of the naval men of Italy, France, Greece and Turkey. They do not wish to see the command of Allied forces in Southern Europe under anyone but an American because they want American direction for the whole operation.

THE FEELING is partly the result of Britain's historic imperialism, which has had the British navy as its symbol. Today, with the situation surrounding the Mediterranean full of political implications, the United States stands alone as a disinterested, nonimperialist and yet powerful partner. America is contributing the bulk of the naval forces and, in the event of war would at once dispatch many aircraft carriers, cruisers and naval aviation units to the area.

The British attitude is a good deal like that of the minority stockholders who want to run the business without assuming the responsibility for putting in the major part of the capital. But the American government is ready, for reasons of harmony, to give the British the naval command in the Mediterranean provided it is subordinate to the over-all commander in chief of Allied forces in Southern Europe. It seems a sensible compromise but up to now the British have not accepted it and prefer to let matters drift without settlement—a risky business.

INCIDENTALLY, the harmony that prevails among the Italian, Greek, Turkish, French and American naval groups in the Mediterranean area is something that deserves praise. The navies of these countries are being slowly but surely built into efficient units. They are being trained alongside units under veteran American commanders.

The U. S. Sixth Fleet is doing an intensive job of training with aircraft and submarines and particularly in antisubmarine activity such as was developed to a high degree of skill in the Atlantic in the last war.

The average observer in the United States cannot possibly realize the great striking power that is being built up in the Mediterranean through sea and air power to support land operations on the continent in event of a major war. Anyone who is at all familiar with the way these naval units are trained can at once see the absurdity of the faked report which a Paris newspaper recently printed alleging that naval power was an alternative rather than a supplement to land power.

A Tip From Bert

By TRUMAN TWILL

Sooner or later you, too, will become acquainted with Bert the Turtle. He is a knowledgeable reptile who conveys Civil Defense messages to school children, comic book fashion.

In his latest message, one of a series available without cost, Bert gets across the idea that the thing to remember is to duck. "Suppose suddenly you saw the very bright flash that only an A-bomb can make," Bert advises. "Just duck and cover."

Gradually, painfully, bit by bit, young and old in this once-defiant land are getting the big idea of modern times—to be on guard day and night against the big boom and to react properly when it happens.

It took a good many thousand years to rise above this. Men did not learn easily to hold up their heads and look in the direction from which trouble was coming. Rabbits never have learned how, nor sheep, nor birds.

That is why it is a tough job to set up a workable defense in America for the "bright flash" that only an A-bomb can make. The first impulse of most Americans would be not to turn their backs and cover but to face the light and start figuring out what happened.

At about that instant, they would be knocked head over heels by the following blast and peppered fatally by invisible rays. They

Symbol Of Struggle

By now Whittaker Chambers' book "Witness" has been widely reviewed and the consensus of the leading reviewers is that this autobiography will stand as one of the great documents of our time. They see it as a brilliant, painful unfolding of his personal tragedy, a drama that perhaps may be properly called the typical tragedy of this century.

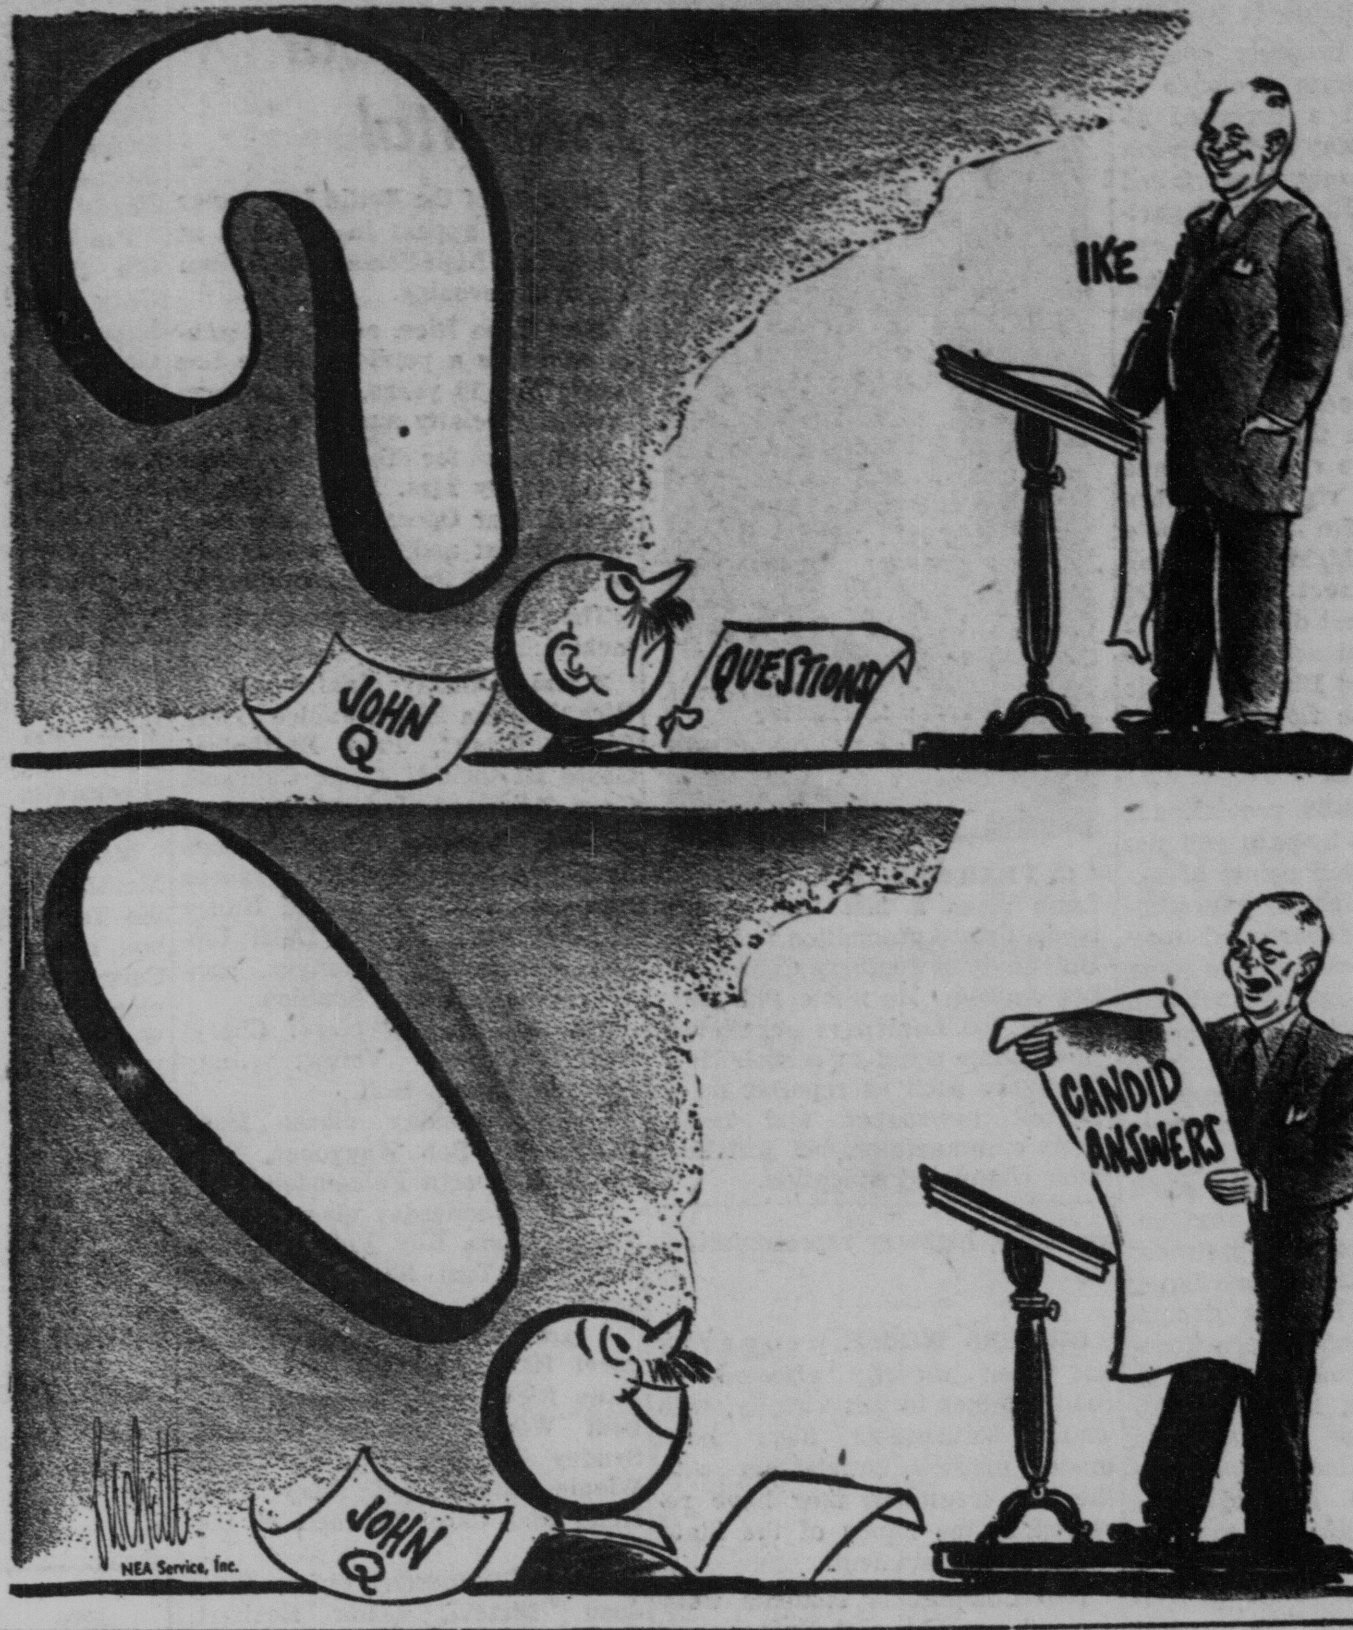

It's all there: Chambers' unhappy childhood with an unhappy family, his turning to communism, his service in the cause of the Soviet Union, his disillusionment and repudiation of the party, and finally the ordeal of the Hiss case.

Also there is a great deal of political and philosophical reasoning offered for the guidance of the American people, indeed, for all free men. But as some reviewers have aptly pointed out, Chambers' experience has been narrow and special. His cruel trials of life do not qualify him to counsel his country on the whole range of its future.

Chambers is neither statesman nor philosopher. But he is a human symbol of today's great struggle.

Ike Sets Some Things Straight

The Fascist Trend

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

It is not an altogether unexpected phenomenon that in both Germany and Italy, a reversion to fascism should be apparent. The alternatives are communism or the American form of capitalism.

In the United States, during the past two decades, a deification of the word, democracy, has been sponsored by both government and many organs of the people. Unfortunately, the word itself has so many meanings as to be meaningless. Certainly, to one who is not an American, the glorification of the word seems peculiar and even queer, because there is no evidence that any aspect of political, social or economic democracy, in definable terms, is practiced here.

The method employed by Americans to select public officials is remote from democracy; we enjoy a representative, republican government, operating through two mechanistic political parties. While the people can and do select, for president or many other offices, one of the two candidates offered by these parties, it is rare that anyone can be chosen independently of them. The choice of the people is funneled through the parties. There is no mob rule, no shouting of the demons.

SIMILARLY, while capitalism is often referred to as free enterprise, its purpose is to produce goods and services but also to create reservoirs of privately owned capital by encouraging the accrual of private profit. The tendency of government to engage in competitive business with private individuals, either directly or indirectly by loans and subsidies, involves a movement away from the American economic system toward European social democracy.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Taft has done all the things you could expect a professional politician to do. Gen. Eisenhower, the political amateur, has been going by his own rules.

Taft breezed into the presidential race with coattails flying. He announced for it last Oct. 17. He started to work for it right away, speechmaking, lining up support, surrounding himself with old-time politicians.

At that time the insiders probably knew where Eisenhower stood but the public didn't even know whether he was Republican or Democrat. He didn't say openly he was a Republican until Jan. 7.

Now that he's back he's working hard for the nomination although six months ago he said he wouldn't.

The people working for him are earnest. His political headquarters here is a cheery place, with wall-to-wall carpeting, plenty of big pictures of the general, all smiling, and girls in their summer dresses, filling, answering phones, clipping newspapers.

In New York there's another Eisenhower headquarters, called "Citizens for Eisenhower." Taft has similar headquarters in both places. And, in addition to volunteers, both men have key people working for them around the country, plus organizations in states and cities.

While Eisenhower is surrounded by plenty of political pros—like Connecticut's Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Sen. Duff of Pennsylvania, Sen. Carlson of Kansas, and state governors who like him—he has some prominent amateur help, too.

Paul Hoffman, one of his advisers, is no pro. He's been a businessman who was chairman of the mocracy. As this trend expands, particularly in the nature of controls, Europeans note that the United States is imitating Europe and not vice versa.

Socially, the American people reject the European concept of democracy, which is equality. Racial discrimination is not the only social barrier in this country. As long as the fundamental American concept of equality of economic opportunity prevailed, no elite class was able to survive long in this country, although it always existed. The graduated income tax is stratifying American society, for only those who possess inherited wealth or are corrupt can acquire the means to move toward social equality. The rest pay taxes and grow constantly poorer through depreciated currency.

Also, the militarization of this country by siphoning youth off during the most important formative years, a system we have copied from continental Europe, delays the opportunities of young people to establish themselves. To this delay must be added the dangerous increase of city population which tends to turn citizens into proletarians.

This the Europeans witness objectively. They are offered wonderful means to a non-existent democracy and are asked to imitate a system we do not use ourselves.

TO AMERICANS, our way is satisfactory with all its imperfections. In fact, most of us prefer the imperfections because they protect our liberties. As Estes Kefauver said in his book "A 20th Century Congress": "... Those multiple proposals rubber-stamped by a dazed congress did not alter the fundamentals of the American government. Proof of this fact lies in the high percentage of those hastily enacted laws that passed the test of constitutionality before the Supreme Court. Unlike another strong, but in that case malevolent, leader in a nascent democracy beset by grave problems, our executive did not demand goose-stepping, heels, and the absolutism of the fuhrer principle. That is fortunate. The people might have been tempted to try such nostrums."

It is because we are loose in our definitions and not very effective in our government that we have not gone crazy over the counterparts of Hitler and Mussolini or Stalin. We take our great men in our stride and recognize that no one is so big that he does not look pot-bellied and bandy-legged in the secrecy of the bath. At such things we laugh and we vote for them.

The Europeans say we are immature. They want a political, economic and social system that is orderly. Our use of the word, democracy, only confuses them. It is a disorderly word, meaning anything that anyone wants it to mean. I have waited for several years, for instance, for some philosopher of the Americans for Democratic Action to supply a precise definition of their basic philosophy in universal terminology.

They have not been able to do anything like that. Nor has the Voice of America. Therefore, Europe goes its merry way toward "ordnung," but now in the fascist form.

We wouldn't be a bit surprised now if they got Bing Crosby to croon the roll calls. . . . Bob is a very funny fellow and has done some wonderful jobs especially for the servicemen. He will wow 'em at the conventions, but we still think his type out of place as commentator at what is a great American institution of tremendous significance and importance to the people. . . . More people than ever before will be watching and listening to the party conventions, and millions of them will be children. . . . The process of selecting a candidate for the highest office in the nation should not be made too much of a comedy program. . . . The regular delegates will make it funny enough. . . . If the "pros" are to be used why not put Martin and Lewis on a credentials' committee, let Eddie Cantor preside as chairman and put the Ritz Brothers in charge of floor demonstrations?

New vistas open for the alert merchandiser. The thought is to raise potatoes as house plants, selling same at $3 a pot.

Take a driver who says "I am the law," and another who claims inherent powers, and their meeting at the highway intersection can be a sad occasion.

Circuses in Russia are now holding strictly to the party line. That pink lemonade which was weak and evasive has become a definite red.

To be handed a hot potato has heretofore been embarrassing. At present prices a smart move is to eat it.

Riders Stranded By Rail Strike

Long Island Rail Road
Freight Also Piles Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The beginnings of a freight pileup on the strike-bound Long Island Rail Road presented a new problem today as transportation authorities battled a massive commuter traffic jam.

For more than a million persons on Long Island, who depend directly or indirectly on the busy line, there appeared no indication of an immediate settlement as the complete stoppage started its second day.

Only 360 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers (independent) were striking against the road, but effects of the dispute over working conditions were taking on huge proportions.

The Long Island is the nation's busiest commuter line, and the walkout hit the 10,000-plus passengers first. Many braved bumper-to-bumper highways or crowded subways and buses to come to work yesterday, only to find themselves stranded at nightfall.

Hotels were besieged. A spokesman for the packed 2,767-room Statler called it "the biggest jam New York hotels ever saw."

Early today a Long Island official said the first day of the strike had caught about 3,000 empty and loaded freight cars in yards and on tracks of the LIRR.

Should the strike continue, it was indicated, an embargo on railroad

Brainard Chorus To Sing In Winona

The 25-voice Brainard Steel Chorus of Warren will sing Friday evening at the annual Winona Spring festival. Funds from this event go toward maintaining the Glen Bennett Memorial Playground in Winona. The chorus (shown above) is directed by Mrs. L. J. Ramsey, a graduate of the Eastman School of Music. Accompanist is Mrs. William Bradbury.

Included in the program Friday will be such numbers as "Dry Bones," "Country Style," "Syncope Clock," a medley of tunes from "Showboat," "Wake Thee Now Dearest" and other favorites.

freight for Long Island might be necessary.

Although best-known for the 30,000 daily passenger fares it carries, freight accounts for more than 20 per cent of the road's revenue.

A railroad spokesman said the Long Island moves raw materials to the island's Republic, Grumman, and Fairchild aircraft plants, which have defense contracts. It also brings food, fuel and other supplies for the 80,000 residents of Nassau and Suffolk counties and the thousands of New Yorkers who live in the boroughs of Queens and Brooklyn.

A considerable amount of Long Island produce is moved to market by rail.

Federal Mediator Ross Barr called the company and the union together for four hours yesterday, but the talks broke down when the striking engineers walked out.

Barr said only that he hoped there would be new talks today.

A company spokesman said the negotiations showed "no progress." A union official described them as "stalemate."

Chief issues in the dispute are working conditions under a new national wage agreement of last May 23, which neither the brotherhood nor the railroad have yet agreed to. The union also says it has many grievances outside of the agreement. Wages are not an issue.

No Sure Remedy For Psoriasis Known

The frequency with which I receive inquiries concerning psoriasis (pronounced with the p silent) is evidence of how badly more information is needed on this curious skin disease. L. W. writes, for example, "Please tell me what causes psoriasis, and is there a known cure?"

These are $64 questions since the exact cause of psoriasis is not known and there is, as yet, no cure. So far as cause is concerned it is known that several members of the same family may be afflicted, but just why is not clear.

It is also known that psoriasis is quite often associated with certain kinds of arthritis, though here again, just what the connection is between the two conditions is uncertain.

Psoriasis, because of its peculiar appearance, is a source of a good deal of worry to those who have it, but although one physician has written me concerning serious complications from the disease, it is generally considered relatively harmless so far as life and general health are concerned.

If the psoriasis starts suddenly there is likely to be severe itching. In the more chronic cases (which are more frequent) there is little or no itching. Those parts of the skin which have become involved for a long time generally become covered with a thick scale. When of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Houze of Minerva and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fitting of Magadore were Sunday visitors in the Alfred Stoudt home.

Many treatments are being used for psoriasis. Most of them produce good results the first time they are tried, but too often the improvement turns out to be only temporary, and when it is repeated the good results that happened the first time fail the second.

The remedies most often used by skin specialists for psoriasis include ointments containing coal tar, exposure to ultraviolet rays (psoriasis is usually better in the summer) and X-rays. Almost every year, too, there is a report of some new and "better" treatment, but as yet there is none which has stood up and really does the job for everybody without any failures.

Some day the right treatment will come, but until it does, psoriasis will be discouraging to treat for patient and doctor alike. However, it is being carefully studied and some greatly improved treatment could come at any time.

Phyllis Jane Wisler Married
To Richard Vondale Staley

Two graduates of Miami University were married Sunday in the Columbiana First Methodist Church. Vows and rings were exchanged by Miss Phyllis Jane Wisler and Richard Vondale Staley in the service performed at 3:30 by Rev. William L. Longworth, church pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wisler of near Leetonia and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Staley of Piqua. Mr. Wisler gave his daughter in marriage and many friends and relatives of the couple witnessed the ceremony.

Miss Janet Gamble sang "This Hallowed Hour," "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," and "I Love You Truly." During the service she sang "Oh Perfect Love," Mrs. Elmer T. Coyle, organist, played for the soloist and sounded the traditional wedding marches, her-aiding the bride party.

Satin Marks Pews
The family pews were marked with white peonies tied with white satin, and the altar was banked with green cibotium and chifferia ferns, varied with bouquets of white peonies and gladioli. The setting was lighted with tapers in five seven-branch candelabra.

Nylon tulle over bridal satin was used to fashion the bride's gown. Lace was applied at the nylon yokeline, emphasizing the off-the-shoulder neckline of the fitted bodice. The bouffant skirt terminated with a formal train.

Nylon was used for the overskirt and handkerchief puffs applied to the skirt were edged with fragile chantilly lace. She wore nylon wristlets. Her fingertip illusion veil was attached to a cloche of chantilly lace, trimmed with seed pearls.

Carried White Orchid
The white orchid she carried was centered in white roses and stephanotis, showered with satin ribbons and sprays of ivy.

Miss Susan Carlyle of Youngstown was maid of honor. White nylon net over buttercup yellow taffeta was used for the fully-fashioned skirt attached to the embroidered organdy bodice. She wore short matching gloves. Briarcliffe roses and ivy were combined in her bouquet and coiffure clusters of matching flowers were worn in her hair.

Mrs. Galen Burt of Columbiana and Mrs. Walter D. Holloway of Youngstown, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. Aqua marine taffeta was worn beneath white nylon net in their bouffant skirts, and the bodices were of embroidered organdy. Each wore short matching gloves and carried yellow roses arranged with ivy.

On a pattern with the gowns worn by the bridesmaids was that worn by Miss Connie Staley, niece of the groom, and flower girl. Her bouffant skirt of white net was over pink taffeta. White rose petals were in the basket she carried.

Brother Is Best Man
John Staley was his brother's best man and Paul Staley, another brother, was an usher with Eugene Price.

A light gray sheer dress was chosen by Mrs. Wisler for her daughter's wedding. Her accessories were navy. Mrs. Staley wore navy with matching accessories. Both had corsages of pink roses.

The couple greeted more than 150 guests at the reception in the Valley Golf Club. Yellow and white the wedding colors, were the colors of the flowers in a silver bowl on the refreshment table. Silver holders held white tapers. Huckleberry and yellow gladioli blossoms encircled the cake and the blossoms also topped the cake, served at a white linen-covered table. Huckleberry and ivy, used in garlands from the table, were caught up in yellow tulle bows. Serving were Mrs. A. G. Wisler, Mrs. John Staley, Miss Jacque Paulin and Miss Miriam Wilson. Helen Dolores Briggs Weds Patrick Mancuso In Lisbon

The rectory of St. George Church in Lisbon was the scene of the formal wedding of Miss Helen Dolores Briggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Briggs of Leetonia, and Patrick Francis Mancuso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mancuso, also of Leetonia.

Only the immediate families witnessed the exchange of vows and rings in the ceremony performed at 6:30 p.m. Saturday by Rev. Fr. Herman Klockner, pastor. White candles in twin candelabras lighted the altar decorated with white gladioli, snapdragons and asters.

Honor guests at the wedding were the bride's two grandmothers Mrs. Oscar Calladine and Mrs. Michael Briggs of Leetonia. Both had corsages of white carnations.

A cascade bouquet of white carnations and asters complemented the bride's gown of chantilly lace and tulle. The lace bodice, over satin, was trimmed with seed pearls and a winged collar. Four rows of nylon tulle were ruffled on her full skirt styled with vertical insert panels of lace at the front. Wide lace edged her fingertip veil, which was attached to a little bonnet embroidered with seed pearls.

Sister Is Matron Of Honor

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Raymond Wetzel of Columbiana. Her gown of "heavenly" blue was patterned similarly with that of the bride except for the addition of a lace bolero jacket, trimmed with nylon tulle. Her flowers were pink carnations.

Patrick Byrnes of Terrytown, N.Y., a fraternity brother of the groom, was best man.

Phk nylon lace over taffeta was worn by Mrs. Briggs. Her accessories were navy and her flower corsage was of pink carnations. Mrs. Mancuso chose a navy blue silk print with navy accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Wilbur Stratton of Salem and Mrs. Roy Waddell of Leetonia, aunts of the bride, Mrs. Alfred Citino of Leetonia, sister of the groom, served at the reception, assisted by Mrs. Ruth Drees of Sidney, another aunt of the bride, Mrs. Michael Mancuso of Leetonia, Mrs. Ralph Mancuso and Mrs. Kenneth Girard of Salem.

150 Attend Reception
Roses bordered the five-tiered wedding cake served to 150 relatives and friends received by the newlyweds at the reception in the Valley Golf Club. The cake was between tapers in crystal on the linen-covered table.

Decorations in the club were highlighted by miniature colonial bouquets and streamers of pink, green and white. Roses and orange blossoms made the appropriate flower setting. Guests came from Leetonia, Salem, Columbiana, Youngstown, Cleveland, Alliance and Sidney.

Mrs. Mancuso, a graduate of Leetonia High School, is employed as secretary in the office of the Mullins Manufacturing Corp. here. The groom, a recent graduate of Mr. Union College, also graduated from Leetonia High School. He has a bachelor of arts degree and is affiliated with Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity.

Upon their return from a honeymoon trip to Uniontown, Pa., and Washington, D.C., the Mancusos will reside in Leetonia. The bride traveled in a sheer blue print nylon with white accessories.

Lutheran Society Names Committees

Appointed program chairmen were Mrs. Walter Block and Mary Berger; magazine chairman, Mrs. Martin Thomas; bulletin chairman, Mrs. A. J. Hinkle; Osterlin Home chairman, Mrs. William Rance; life and membership chairman, Mrs. Deuber Miller; thank offering secretary, Mrs. Harold Schultz.

Topic leader Mrs. Franke and the group participated in a discussion on "A New Flag Flies."

Mrs. J. A. Sehr will lead the topic with "The Pacific Rim" at the next meeting to be at the church Friday, July 11.

U.S. BEATS ROME'S RECORD FOR WALKING BACKWARD!

IT TOOK THE ROMANS 3 CENTURIES TO TAKE THE BACKWARD STEPS WHICH LED TO ROME'S DESTRUCTION. IT HAS TAKEN AMERICANS ONLY A FEW YEARS.

THROUGHOUT ALL HISTORY, PEOPLE HAVE MADE THE MISTAKE OF DEPENDING ON GOVERNMENT FOR HELP. THIS HAS ALWAYS LED TO DESTRUCTION. THIS MISTAKE STOPPED ROMAN PROGRESS AND THE ROMAN REPUBLIC WAS REPLACED BY A MILITARY DICTATOR.

ABOUT 175 YEARS AGO, AMERICANS TOOK THE GREATEST FORWARD STEP IN HISTORY. THEY FORMED A NEW KIND OF GOVERNMENT, UNDER WHICH PEOPLE WOULD ALWAYS BE INDEPENDENT!

RECENTLY, AMERICANS HAVE SET ASIDE THIS GREAT PRINCIPLE AND HAVE TAKEN GREAT STEPS BACKWARD—REPEATING THE SAME MISTAKES THAT DESTROYED ROME 2,000 YEARS AGO.

IT TOOK CENTURIES FOR ROMANS TO DO THIS—

ABOUT 2,000 YEARS AGO, THE ROMANS HAD MORE INDIVIDUAL FREEDOM THAN WAS EVER KNOWN BEFORE THAT TIME.

GRADUALLY, THEY TRADED THEIR FREEDOM FOR THE FALSE PROMISES OF EASE AND SECURITY OFFERED THEM BY THEIR GOVERNMENT. AS A RESULT —

- ① LANDOWNERS DEPENDED ON GOVERNMENT BY RECEIVING INTEREST-FREE LOANS
- ② 320,000 ROMANS DEPENDED ON GOVERNMENT THROUGH RELIEF ROLES. FINALLY, ANYONE WHO APPLIED COULD GET RELIEF.
- ③ BUSINESS MEN AND WAGE-EARNERS DEPENDED ON GOVERNMENT THROUGH PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAMS WHICH WERE CREATED FOR THE SPECIAL BENEFIT OF PRIVILEGED GROUPS

AMERICANS ARE REPEATING THE SAME MISTAKES THAT ENSLAVED AND DESTROYED ROME!

IT TOOK JUST A FEW YEARS FOR AMERICANS TO DO THIS—

ABOUT 175 YEARS AGO, AMERICANS HAD THE GREATEST AMOUNT OF INDIVIDUAL FREEDOM IN ALL HISTORY!

BUT, IN JUST A FEW YEARS, AMERICANS HAVE REPEATED THE ANCIENT MISTAKES OF GIVING UP FREEDOM AND DEPENDING ON GOVERNMENT.

IN 1950, EXCLUSIVE OF THE ARMED FORCES, 59,957,000 AMERICANS WERE EMPLOYED WHILE 17,500,000 AMERICANS DEPENDED ON GOVERNMENT FOR ALL OR PART OF THEIR LIVING, 17½ MILLION AMERICAN PEOPLE WERE RECEIVING REGULAR CHECKS FROM THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT IN SUBSIDIES SALARIES AND SPECIAL AIDS.

IF AMERICANS ARE TO STOP WALKING BACKWARD INTO THE FUTURE, OUR GOVERNMENT MUST HAVE A MORAL PURPOSE.

LIFE, LIBERTY, THE RIGHT TO EARN AND HOLD PROPERTY — these three gifts of God preceded all man-made laws and are superior to them.

So every individual has a right to protect these gifts against interference from any source whatsoever. If government is to have a moral purpose, it must protect these individual God-given rights for every person.

Therefore, the purpose of our government must be —

"TO MAKE AND ENFORCE LAWS WHICH PROTECT EVERY INDIVIDUAL'S GOD-GIVEN LIFE, LIBERTY AND THE RIGHT TO EARN AND HOLD PROPERTY FROM THE INTERFERENCE OF ANY OTHER INDIVIDUAL OR GROUP —AND THESE LAWS MUST ALSO PROTECT THE PEOPLE FROM GOVERNMENT ITSELF."

Since an individual cannot lawfully interfere with the Life, Liberty or Property of another individual, —then a moral government cannot lawfully interfere with the Life, Liberty or Property of individuals or groups.

CIO Wins On Volio's Seventh Inning Homer

CIO edged out Rufers 10-8 in Class A softball play Monday night at Kelley Field as John Volio walloped a home run with one on in the last inning to cinch the game.

Rufers drove home five runs in the sixth, deadlocking the score at 8-8. With two out in the last of the seventh, the contest looked as if it might go into extra innings. But Volio's blast was enough to give the CIO the win.

Two home runs enabled Gil and Chucks to defeat Mullins 9-4 in a Class AA game Monday night. Mullins went ahead in the first inning, but three runs by Gil and Chucks in the second and two more by Mullins tied the score. Mullins added another marker in the fifth to lead 4-3.

A big sixth inning, in which Gil and Chucks collected six runs, decided the game.

Mullins Wins 9-4 In Little League

A grand slam home run by Larry Phillips aided Mullins in defeating Sanitary 9-4 in a Little League game Monday night in Centennial Park.

The centerfielder's drive came in the fifth inning, after Sanitary had taken a 4-2 lead. Mullins nabbed two more runs in the fifth and one for added insurance in the final inning.

Mark Fenton, on the mound for Mullins, went all the way, allowing only three hits and striking out 10. Dale Swartz also hit a home run for Mullins.

Giants Win 8-7 On Grand Slam Homer

Thomson's Hit Comes In Ninth

Cuts Dodger Lead To Three Games

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Who said everything happens in Brooklyn?

How about the Polo Grounds? Ever since Bobby Thomson cracked that pennant-winning home run in the final 1951 playoff game, the weirdest things have been occurring in the home of the New York Giants.

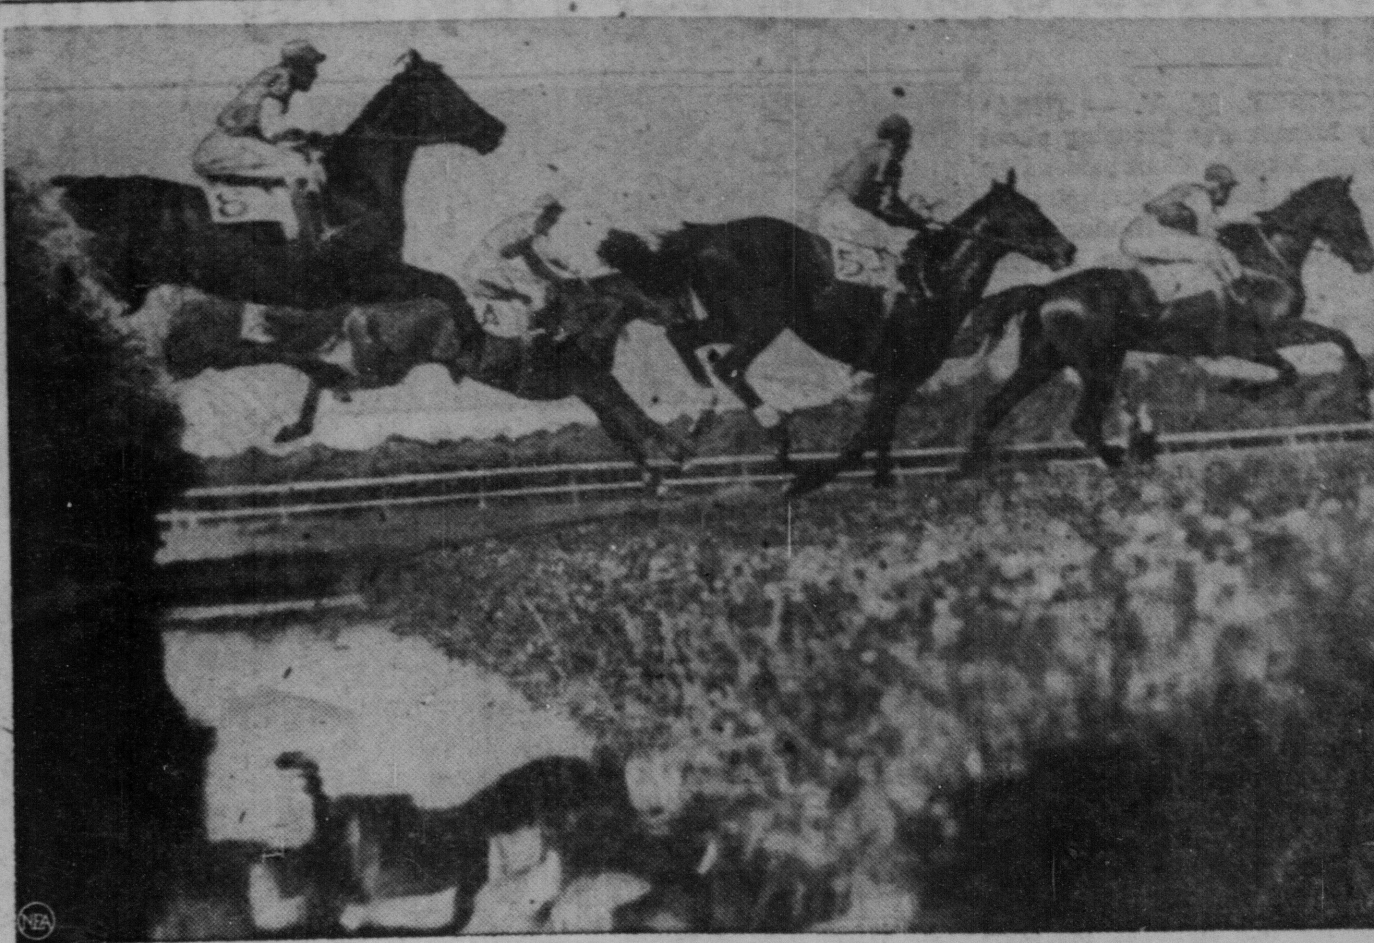

Look at what happened in the Polo Grounds last Sunday, for instance. The Giants were rolling along enjoying an 11-0 lead over the St. Louis Cardinals when suddenly the roof caved in on them. Before they realized what had happened the Cards had won 14-12.

YESTERDAY, just 24 hours later, the Cards were leading 7-4, when the Giants came to bat. Two walks, a single, an out and boom. Thomson practically duplicated his '51 feat, hitting a grand slam homer to beat the Redbirds, 8-7.

That's not all. Look at this believe-it-or-not situation. Willard Schmidt, who tossed up that gopher ball to Bobby, made only one pitch—and he was charged with the defeat. The rookie righthander had been summoned to relieve Will Werle.

In contrast, the victory went to George Spencer, fourth Giant pitcher. He, too, made only one pitch. That was a double-play delivery to Del Rice to end the top of the ninth. So we have the unprecedented situation in which two hurlers make one pitch each, one of which is credited with the victory while the other is charged with the defeat.

IRONICALLY, Thomson's game-winning homer came after the Giant third baseman had gone to bat 17 straight times without a hit. Eddie Yuhas, second St. Louis pitcher, set the stage when he walked Hank Thompson to start the last half of the ninth. Pinch hitter George Wilson lined to Red Schoendienst and Thompson moved to second when Schoendienst threw wild to first in a double-play attempt.

Davey Williams singled to send Thomson to third. Lefty Werle relieved Yuhas and walked Whitey Lockman to 'load the bases. Schmidt, a fast-balling righthander, took over. Thomson's belt went clear over the left field roof just inside the foul line. The homer cut the Dodgers' first-place lead to three games, erased what looked like certain defeat for Sal Maglie and overshadowed homers by Wes Westrum, Al Dark and Williams for the Giants.

In the only other game scheduled in the majors, the Phillies edged out the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4, to move into sixth place past the Boston Braves. A triple by Richie Ashburn and a long fly by Granny Hamner broke a 4-4 tie in the seventh.

Julius Boros To Compete In PGA Match

LOUISVILLE (AP)—The golf pros were wondering whether Julius Boros was a "fluke" winner of the National Open title or a golfer who'll turn out to be a real champion. So they're giving him an immediate opportunity to prove his tournament mettle.

Boros, a big, rather silent young man from Connecticut who is pro at the Mid Pines course in North Carolina, won't be eligible for PGA membership for three more years. But the PGA Executive Committee, in a surprising reversal of traditional policies, voted to give him a special invitation to compete in the PGA championship, which starts Wednesday.

This action was a temporary one, calling for a change in the by laws which limit entries to PGA members and certain invited foreign stars. It is subject to ratification at the PGA convention in December.

While the invitation to Boros added sparkle to the tournament, it already had about as strong a field as the open. Ben Hogan won't be there, but runner-up Ed Oliver, fourth place Johnny Bulla and most of the other top-flight stars are among the 144 starters.

Pirates Add Bonus Player To Roster

PITTSBURGH (AP)—General Manager Branch Rickey, who keeps saying he doesn't like bonus players, has just signed one of them to a Pittsburgh Pirate contract for a reputed $75,000 plus.

The prize package is shortstop Dick Groat of Duke University and Swisshale, Pa. He signed last night and is reported to be so good that there is a chance he may step into the team's lineup against the New York Giants tonight at the Polo Grounds.

Some see him as the answer to Manager Billy Meyer's prayer for an infield that really clicks. Others declare he is just one more item in Rickey's accent-on-youth movement, which the leader says will find fruition in a first division club in 1953.

Groat is a lanky 6-foot, 182-pound youngster with an infectious grin. He fielded everything in sight and batted .373 for Duke last season. He is as sensational on the basketball floor as on the diamond and was a cage all-America this year.

BALTIMORE — Johnny Greco, 153, Toronto, outpointed Luis Ortiz, 144½, Puerto Rico, 10.

CUP CAPTAIN—Billy Talbert, 33, will captain the United States Davis Cup team when it enters Japan in the American zone first round in Cincinnati, July 25-27.

U. S. Boxers Fight Hard For Olympics

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The nation's top amateur fighters, seeking a spot in the world Olympic games indicated Monday night just how choice they consider the 14 berths on the U. S. boxing team.

There wasn't a bad bout among 35 on the opening program of the U. S. Olympic finals in Municipal Auditorium.

Five clearcut knockouts, four technical knockouts and one major surprise featured the show.

Tonight's program of both quarter-final and semi-final scraps leads up to Wednesday evening's session deciding the 10 champions and four alternates that go to Helsinki next month.

Monday's results included: 112 pounds, Carmel Williamson, Toledo, O., Central Regional, defeated Bob Aragon, Wilmington, Calif.

119 pounds — David Moore, Springfield, O., Central Regional, knocked out Glenn Erwin, U. S. Navy, Ft. Worth, Tex., 1:08 second round.

132 pounds — Archie Slaten, Miami (Fla.) University NCAA, defeated Les Gilmore, Toledo, O.

139 pounds — Isaac Vaughn, Cleveland, defeated Juan Alvarez, Caribbean command, Puerto Rico.

Charles Was Toughest; Maxim Not Intent To Mess Up Biggest Pay Day With Robinson

GROSSINER, N. Y. — (NEA) — Joey Maxim was grousing about the tough lot of a champion as he mopped the pour of perspiration from his face in this training camp high in the hills of the Borscht circuit.

"When I was a challenger," muttered Joey, "I got no debts. I own a house and car. I got plenty of fights, plenty of pay days. Then I become champ, and I got no fights. Only a couple of delicatessens in Cleveland."

But he'll be able to buy lots of bologna after slicing up the gate with Sugar Ray Robinson at Yankee Stadium, June 23.

"My biggest pay day," nodded Joey, "and I'm not gonna mess it up. For my last one with Charles I got too fat. I didn't fight for 18 months. I ballooned up to 201 and couldn't move."

"I don't watch out, and I'm a chunky little devil. Some day I'm gonna be big and fat. I started training for this fight at 188 and want to get down to 173. I'll make it. I lose eight pounds in one day if I want to. Will power—that's what I got, eh, Jack?"

Jack turned out to be Doc Kearns of Dempsey heyday fame, who picked up Maxim after his discharge from the Air Force in 1946 and nursed him to a title.

THE MAXIM CAMP, improvised in an airplane hangar, has none of the elegance of numbers sported by Robinson—just Joey, Jack, trainer Al DelMonte and a few sparring partners. One, Chuck Hunter, made Joey step lively as he belted the champ for four rounds.

Quipped a bystander, "The way Chuck's tagging him with jabs, Joey might not have to go down to New York. He could lose the title at Grossinger's."

Maxim had the opposite reaction: "You saw how I looked in there. Pretty good, huh? Fast. How'd you like my footwork? Not bad for a guy with bum feet."

What's wrong with them? "Lotsa mileage in these shoes, boys."

He was referring to his 18 years in the ring, and Joey is only 30. "I was 12 when I started in Golden Gloves. I got the seminals when I was 13. I fought anybody and everybody in my day. Robinson, he must be good, but what's he got the others haven't? And he's not as big."

How about Sugar, Joey? You going to beat him? "I gotta, I just gotta," he said grimly, giving himself a light poke on the whiskers. "Me, I'm not a guy that loses. In my mind, nobody beats me, see. The other guy gets the duke, I take it awful hard."

"Hey, Giuseppe," interrupted a camp follower, "when did they start calling you Maxim?"

"RIGHT FROM the start. Giuseppe Berardinelli, that's too long for a fighter. Joey Maxim, that's more like it. Why Maxim? I dunno."

Talk drifted around to a rival light-heavyweight. "He don't like to get hit," commented Joey, in his staccato style, with big-city inflections. "Me, I got the Dago heart. I take on the big boys—the heavyweights."

"I say Charles is the toughest I fought. Walcott didn't give me much trouble. The referee did. Every time I turn around, Walcott's whacking me in the rear. Forty whacks, and the referee don't do a thing."

For all his ring experience, Joey Maxim is comparatively unmarked—no scar tissue around the eyes, no cauliflower ear, just a banana nose to betray his trade. For a fighter, he has surprisingly small, almost feminine hands.

There's nothing dainty, though, about the way he uses them.

Dom DiMaggio Leads Batters

Rosen Close Behind; Musial Tops National

NEW YORK (AP)—Stan Musial, aiming for his sixth batting championship, and his third straight crown, is back again in his familiar spot as the National League's leading hitter with a mark of .330.

Although his average remained the same over the past week, the St. Louis Cardinal outfielder jumped from fourth place into the top slot, displacing slumping Hank Sauer of Chicago.

Sauer, who leads the league in home runs with 18 and runs batted in with 59, lost 29 points and skidded to sixth place.

In the American League batting race Dom DiMaggio of Boston suffered an 11-point decline, but managed to retain the lead over Cleveland's Al Rosen. The little professor of the Red Sox is hitting .332, with Rosen right on his heels at .330.

The Indians third baseman, however, continues to set the pace in runs batted in with 38 and is tied for the lead in homers with Detroit's Walt Dropp and Vic Wertz. Each has scored 11.

Whitey Lockman of New York and Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson follow Musial in the National League batting derby. Both are tied for second at .327.

A trio of Chicago performers hold down the next three positions. Rookie Toby Atwell is fourth at .326, followed by the injured Frankie Baumholtz at .321 and Sauer at .318.

Boston's George Kell, who has been challenging the American League pace-setters for the past few weeks, is still in contention with a third-place mark of .325.

Eddie Robinson of Chicago holds down fourth at .316, followed by Detroit's Johnny Groth at .310 in fifth.

Feller Faces Nats In First Of 3 Games

CLEVELAND (AP)—A year ago Wednesday, Bob Feller won his 10th victory for Cleveland against one defeat. Tonight he tries for his seventh against four losses when the Tribe takes on Washington in the first of three games.

Normally a hot-weather pitcher, Feller ought to find conditions right for him tonight. His fine start last season — his 10 were one-third of the Indians' total victories to June 18 — was the best in his career.

Things haven't been going too well for the 33-year-old dean of the Cleveland hurling staff this season. His earned-run average of 4.83 is higher than that of any other Tribe hurler except reliever Mickey Harris.

Bob Porterfield, who has a 5-5 record for the fading, fifth-place Nationals, will oppose Feller tonight. The ex-Yankee righthander beat Lemon 1-0 in Washington last Wednesday.

Manager Al Lopez has said he would go back to his old infield lineup, with Luke Easter on first and Al Rosen back on third. Rosen didn't like the job at the initial sack Sunday, and welcomed the news.

Easter, who claims to be a hot-weather hitter, is another key figure in the Tribe's pennant chances. With the trade deadline past at the start of this week, large Luke now can stop worrying about where he will hang his spikes for the rest of the season and concentrate on his batting.

Painting Rooms Green Makes Them Seem Cool

Green is a color that is well to consider when you're painting the walls of at least one room in your house. There are many attractive tints and tones of it now available.

Green is soothing and restful—a nature color. It is cool, fresh and moist in quality. The hue seems to offer certain relief to the mind and hence to make time pass swiftly.

Green tends to inspire patience. Psychological tests prove it to be the most tranquil of colors, neither exciting nor subduing.

Being cool in nature, it also helps to overcome the physical discomforts of high temperatures. Primitive in its charm, it is universally liked.

Plastic Labeling Tape Has Many Handy Household Uses

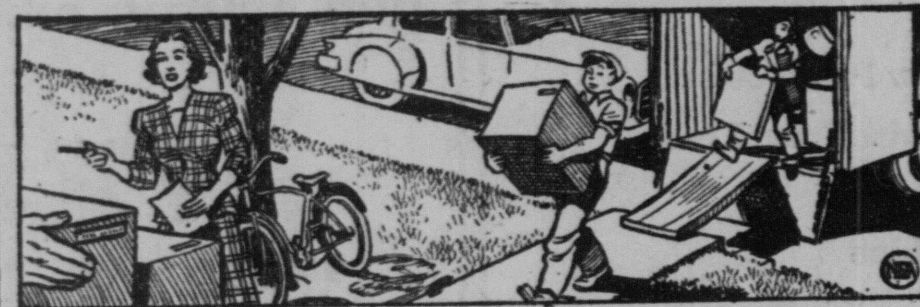

Label Electric Light Switches for Economy

Use Tape to Label Storm Windows

Identify and Date Your Canned Goods

Identify Packing Cases When Moving to Facilitate Unpacking

A recently introduced plastic labeling tape is almost certain to enjoy a lot of popularity in handy-man-of-the-house circles because of its countless uses.

With this new product it's no trick to keep track of which storm windows, doors or screens go in which frames. You don't have to depend on pencil marks and other hard-to-read labels.

No ink or pencil lead is needed—you can write on the tape with pencil, dry ball-point pen or stylus, and the writing appears under a transparent outer layer by pressure of the writing instrument.

Protected by the outer layer, the notations are smudge-proof and resistant to dust, dirt, water, oil, paint and most chemicals.

THE NEW TAPE is pressure sensitive and sticks without moistening to any smooth, dry surface. It is unaffected by temperatures from -40 degrees to 160 degrees F. and stays on under almost any condition imaginable.

While it sticks firmly, it can be stripped off without leaving a mark and applied to any other smooth, dry surface.

Color choices provide a shiny, white, writing surface with narrow bands of blue, red or green. Your printing will "take" in corresponding colors. The tape shows up well against various colored backgrounds.

THIS LABELING tape can be put to work in your workshop with highly satisfactory results. For instance, you can readily mark nail and small-parts cabinets or drawers according to the name and size of the contents.

Sensitive machinery, or fragile tools and instruments that are dangerous in children's hands, can be labeled "Don't Touch," or "Caution."

Among many uses you'll find for it, one of the best (some large industrial concerns do this) is to indicate the fuses in your home's electric fuse box that handle various circuits. Fuses labeled in this way can be quickly replaced when the kitchen stove or light in the baby's room suddenly goes out.

If and when you move your belongings from one home to another, plastic labeling tape will prove valuable in marking packing boxes. By identifying the boxes' contents on a label you'll have no trouble finding certain items when you arrive at your destination.

THE NEW TAPE can be used to remind children that electric power and hot water aren't free. Label electric light switches and water faucets with, "Turn it off, please," or "Lights off."

This stunt can save on light and water bills. And if you'll let the kids print the labels themselves, they will remember those words of caution that much better.

Plastic labeling tape is becoming popular with housewives, too, for marking home canned goods, fresh frozen food packages, children's overshoes, packages for storage and an increasingly list of items that need a handy self-sticking label.

Home Controls Easing Called Disappointing

WASHINGTON, June 14 — The revision of Regulation X just announced by the government is extremely disappointing and will have little or no helpful effect on the housing market, H. R. Northup, executive vice president of National Retail Lumber Dealers Association, said.

"The reduction in down payments is so slight, except for the lowest priced homes, that it will afford no important relief to families seeking larger homes or to builders who have such homes standing vacant for lack of buyers with sufficient down payments," he charged.

Under the new program, which became effective last Wednesday, home buyers are allowed to make down payments from 20 to 50 per cent lower than those required under Regulation X. Down payments were cut in half on the least expensive homes while on the most expensive, they were reduced 20 per cent.

"There is no sound reason for maintaining such tight control over housing credit when restrictions have been completely removed on appliances, automobiles and other goods," Northup said.

"It is difficult to escape the conclusion that government officials are using superfluous emergency powers for the purpose of programming housing in such a way as to fit their own social aims."

The vice president said a recent nationwide survey conducted by members of NRLDA's executive committee disclosed that in many parts of the country large numbers of homes priced at $15,000 and up are completed but unsold.

Prospective buyers are eager for the homes, he said, but can't raise the excessive down payments required in the name of a credit emergency which seems to exist only in the housing field.

"Inasmuch as federal agencies refuse to take the necessary administrative action," he continued, "our only alternative is to place the facts before Congress and urge that its authority to maintain controls over housing credit be removed entirely."

How To Fix It

Q—What type of paint do you recommend for fences?

A—There are white paints on the market with creosote base for just such a purpose. The base helps preserve the wood.

Mixing of 25 per cent platinum with gold gives a pure white metal which is sometimes called white gold.

son: Scientific handling of plants and more exact knowledge of conditions under which plants will thrive have made late planting notably successful.

There are three developments in the recent past which insure planting success regardless of the season, according to the American Association of Nurserymen. These are:

1. More precise care of plants, balled and burlapped, which have been held under ideal moisture and soil conditions in sales yards and nurseries. Such plants are heeled in, with the roots surrounded by peat moss, or soil, and they can move without the least danger to the life of the plant. This is true especially of evergreens, since sufficient soil is removed with the plant, to enable it to continue to thrive.

2. The practice which has sprung up in many parts of the country of growing nursery stock in containers. This is similar to pot plants, such as annuals and perennials which can be moved from one location to another just as pot plants are moved, at any time, without any danger whatever to the plant providing it receives reasonable after-care.

3. One of the most interesting developments of recent years is the use of sprays which will reduce the amount of transpiration of moisture through the leaves. By spraying plants in full leaf or flower, they can be transplanted without wilting, or loss.

Experienced nurserymen have always been able to transplant at any season of the year. The only difference between summer planting and fall or spring planting is that the plant must be removed with care from one location to another and it must be given sufficient water and proper maintenance after transplanting. By use of new methods such as spraying and container-grown nursery stock no greater care is required than in the earlier months.

The only difference that may be noticeable is in the planting of bare root plants. Nurserymen in many areas, however, have overcome this by planting bare root nursery stock in containers with sufficient soil so that it will grow in the normal way. This is true of roses, and numerous shrubs and trees normally sold bare root to consumers earlier in the year. So if you wish to plant now or even later this season, consult with your local nurseryman and be guided by his advice.

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—Should grass clippings be left on the lawn to maintain the organic matter in the soil?

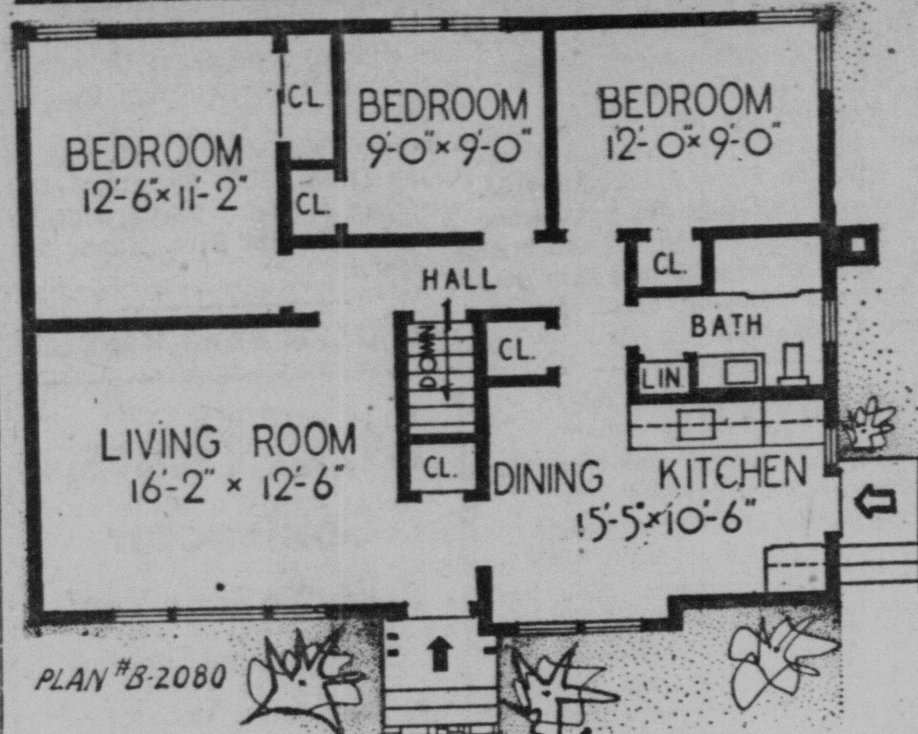

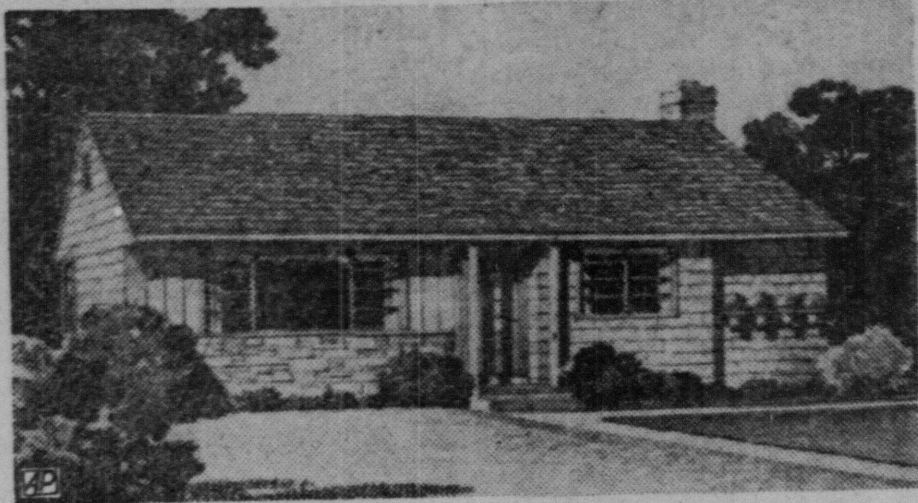

A—Often, perhaps usually, but if the growth of the lawn is very rank the accumulation of clippings can kill the lawn. When such is the case only an occasional clipping should be left on.

Q—Please suggest a slow-growing small evergreen vine to cover the base of our sundial.

A—There is one small vine that is ideal for this purpose. The name is Euonymus radicans minimus, or baby winter creeper, although most nurseries sell it as Euonymus kewensis. A dainty little evergreen vine, it seldom grows higher than 12 or 18 inches.

Q—Will you please give me information about growing ivy as a house plant? I have been snipping off runners and putting them in water. Some of them sprout and form roots but more often they shrivel and die after a few weeks.

A—The best medium to root cutting in is coarse, clean sand kept constantly moist. They may later be transplanted into ordinary clay pots and grown in a medium consisting of approximately one-third leaf mold, one-third clean sand and one-third sandy loam.

ECONOMY OF CONSTRUCTION is featured in simplicity of design in this complete three-bedroom house for limited budgets. This is Plan B-2080 by Alvin Cassens, Jr., architect, 145 So. Franklin Ave., Valley Stream, N. Y. The house measures 36 x 26 feet overall, covers an area of only 936 square feet, and with a full basement it calls for 18,720 cubic feet of construction. These figures serve as rough guides for local estimates on building costs.

Attached Garage Called Best For Small Property

A long driveway to a garage at the rear of a house takes up about 16 per cent of a 50 by 100 foot plot. When building a new garage or carport or in discussing plans with an architect, try to place it near the front of the house within 20 or 25 feet of the street. Here, only 4 per cent of the yard is sacrificed.

If the plot is small but has a side yard large enough to meet local zoning law requirements, the garage should be attached to the house. The attached garage gives rambling lines to the small house.

Point Brushes Should First Be Soaked In Oil

Don't put a new brush directly into paint or enamel. If you do, the paint pigment adheres to the bristles and is difficult to remove. Treat it with oil first which makes it much easier to clean. Before putting the brush into oil, however, remove any loose bristles by rolling the handles of the brush between the palms of your hands. Then beat the bristles lightly across your fingers.

For at least 12 hours before it is to be used, suspend the brush in linseed oil. Be sure that the ends of the bristle do not rest on the bottom of the container.

When you're ready to use it, remove the surplus oil by laying the brush on its side, then pressing a wooden strip heavily across the bristle, starting with the ferrule and working downward, toward the tip of the brush until most of the oil has been removed. The brush now is ready to use.

A giraffe may be more than 18 feet tall. They are the tallest of all mammals.

Chiggers, Scratches Arrive With Ohioans Green Lawns

COLUMBUS, O., (AP)—If you want to enjoy your lawn, seems like you have to start from scratch. For this is the season of chigger and his millions of offspring spring get under your skin so thoroughly that the grass most anywhere else seems much greener.

No one has ever counted the chiggers in the average Ohio lawn. Probably because no one could.

hold a pencil long enough while in their midst to total the figures. Science has marshalled its test tubes in the man-against-chigger battle. Out of the retorts have come solutions said to be wonder drugs—wonderful for man, that is. They bear the names of lindane, chlordane, and toxaphene, which translated freely, mean "bad for chiggers."

These are sprayed on lawns. T. H. Parks, Agricultural Extension Service bug killer, says five gallons will cover the average lawn and make it fit for human habitation.

There are scoffers, of course. Some will tell you chiggers are a hardy brand of critters that get drunk on fancy sprays and lay off until the effects wear off.

Carrollton Man Says Phone Caused Loss

COLUMBUS (AP)—A Carrollton man complained today he lost an order for 5,000 gallons of gasoline a day because of poor telephone service by the Ohio Associated Telephone Co. of Marion.

The complaint was forwarded to the state utilities commission by State Rep. Tom Richards of Carroll County.

Richards said the H. C. Price Co. of Auburn, N. Y., tried for two days last month to telephone Kenneth A. Widder, the Carrollton representative of the Standard Oil Co., to place an order. The company told Widder later the Carrollton telephone operator said Widder's number was either out of order, busy or did not answer for two days. Widder said his wife was at home the entire two days.

Finally, said Richards, the New York company gave up trying to reach Widder, phoned one of his competitors and placed the order they wanted to give Widder for 5,000 gallons of gasoline a day.

Richards asked the commission to investigate the complaint and take action.

Steel, Rails Show Strength On Market

NEW YORK (AP)—A tendency toward the upside was displayed today by the stock market with the rails and steels acting well.

The advance didn't get outside of a fractional range. At the same time it was modified by a relatively large number of small minus signs.

Dow Chemical provided some interest with a fall that extended to between four and five points before it retraced part of the loss.

The market started quietly mixed. It continued at a slow pace. From time to time, however, there were attempts made at a recovery, but only with partial success.

Higher stocks included Santa Fe, Nickel Plate, Republic Steel, American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, Montgomery Ward, Du Pont, Boeing, Westinghouse Electric, and Philip Morris.

Faces Trial Later In Lisbon Slaying

LISBON—Chief Deputy Al Hartman will return Sylvester M. Harr, 21, confessed murderer, from Blair County, Pa., Wednesday but it is likely he will not face trial for about a month.

Harr, former Lisbon cab driver, admitted the fatal beating of Mike Zlater, 70-year-old Center Township farmer, during an argument Jan. 14.

Harr has been in the county jail in Holidaysburg since January for a service station robbery there. Harr made the confession to county deputies Jan. 23.

It is not known if John J. Humphries, 33, will be returned. He was sentenced along with Harr for the Pennsylvania robbery. Humphries was absolved of complicity in the killing but was wanted as a material witness. He is also from Lisbon.

back to Stockholm last night to appear before an inquiry board of high Air Force officials. The seventh, who had been shot in the arm, remained in a Hangoe hospital.

Editorials in Stockholm newspapers of all political shades bitterly assailed the Russian attack as "piracy," "gangsterism," and "ruthless terrorism."

The Socialist Morgon-Tidningen, mouthpiece of the government, described it as a "cruel and senseless" act, "enraging the whole nation."

"Sweden will not allow herself to be pushed around," the Liberal Stockholms-Tidningen said.

Describing the incident as a "part of a ruthless terror campaign," the Liberal Dagens Nyheter expressed confidence that the government would "not resign itself to this reign of terror in international waters."

Jury Saved From Duty In Hot Courtroom

LISBON—Some 26 jury members were saved from duty in a hot courtroom Monday when two scheduled cases in Common Pleas Court were handed to a judge for study and the other postponed.

Judge Frank Cope of Carrollton took under advisement a suit by Mrs. Daisy Carr of East Liverpool against the Industrial Commission of Ohio.

Meanwhile, a suit involving William Allison of Greenford and Paul Fiscus of Perry Township was continued until the September term of court by Judge Joel H. Sharp.

The State Supreme Court ordered the retrial after a Common Pleas jury in 1949 awarded Allison $7,000 for injuries received from a hidden mine booby trap on Fiscus property. Allison was seeking $50,000 as a result of the blast May 14, 1944.
